More About Our Program:

We are a community of staff and students whose purpose is to foster academic growth and equal access to education for all students by creating a welcoming and inclusive environment, nurturing students' identity development and personal and academic growth, being innovative and collaborative student advocates, and providing excellent and effective services.

Subject-Area Tutoring provides discipline-specific assistance in courses across the curriculum. From one-on-one meetings with a tutor to focused group-sessions, Subject-Area Tutoring offers you many ways to assist fellow UVM students.

All of our 150+ tutors have been recommended by faculty members and complete training before they begin. Tutors are paid $9.60 per hour.

High-Demand Courses:

We are currently looking for tutors who will be available to tutor in these high-demand subject areas:

| | |
|------|---|
| MATH | Any courses, but especially 009 through 121 |
| BSAD | Any courses, but especially 060, 061, 132, 150, 180 |
| STAT | 111, 141, 183 |
| CHEM | 023, 026, 031, 032, 035, 036, 042, 141, 142 |
| PHYS | 011, 012, 031, 051, 125, 152 |

| EC | 011, 012 |
| BIO | 001, 002, 003 |
| BCOR | 011, 012 |

Although there is a much lower demand for tutors in other subjects, we receive requests for tutors in courses across the disciplines. Tutors are encouraged to list any course that they are interested in tutoring; the more courses you can list, the more competitive you will be as an applicant. We do keep your application on file, and if demand for tutors in your specialty increases, we will be in contact with you.

First-Year Applicants

Applicants are required to have taken the course they wish to tutor at the University of Vermont. In light of this, the Learning Co-op does not hire first-year students in their first semester. If you are a first year student interested in becoming a tutor, please wait until your second semester at UVM to apply for a position in our office.
